

Agreement on Registration for Online Courses provided by an Overseas University and Courses by the University of Tokyo

The following shall be agreed upon regarding taking online courses during "Study Abroad through an exchange program or a leave of absence" stipulated in the University of Tokyo Undergraduate Handbook II (Senior Division).

<For Students participating in overseas study through this university>

(In the case where students do not travel abroad)

(1) Students of this faculty may register for online courses offered by short-term exchange programs through the university-wide or inter-departmental student exchange memorandum, summer programs, winter programs, etc. held at overseas universities.

(This applies to online courses offered as an alternative measure when travel is restricted due to the spread of infection or other circumstances.)

(2) In the case of 1) above, the students are not precluded from taking classes at this university at the same time if approved by the course manager or the program director.

(3) Pursuant to Article 16-2 of the University of Tokyo General Rules on College/Faculties, students in this Faculty may apply for recognition of the credits earned in 1) above as credits of this Faculty in accordance with the provisions of "Study Abroad through an exchange program or a leave of absence".

(4) In approving 2) above, the course manager or the program director shall pay close attention to whether his/her course workload is excessive or overlaps with other course schedules of the student.

(In the case where students travel abroad)

(5) In accordance with Article 15-2, Paragraph 3 of the University of Tokyo General Rules on College/Faculties, a student may take online courses at this university while studying abroad, if the course manager or the program director approves.

(6) In approving 5) above, the course manager or the program director will pay close attention to whether his/her course workload is excessive or overlaps with other course schedules of the student.

(7) The number of credits earned through online classes taken in accordance with 5) above shall be included in the number of credits earned through online classes (up to 60 credits) as stipulated in Article 26, Paragraph 2 of the University of Tokyo General Rules on College/Faculties.

<Students accepted from overseas universities>

(8) For students who are accepted from foreign universities through international exchange agreements, in the case where travel is restricted due to the spread of infection, etc., and online classes are offered as an alternative measure, the students may take online classes at this university while they are abroad, in accordance with Article 15-2, Paragraph 3 of the University of Tokyo General Rules on College/Faculties.

<Others>

(9) This rule shall be applicable from the A semester of the 2021 academic year.

1. Course Registration made while the status of student registration is "Study Abroad" is not precluded. If the status of a student is "on leave of absence", it is not allowed to register for courses.
2. The status of student registration referred in 1) above is in accordance with the university-wide policy.
3. Instructors offering online courses will not make any special consideration for students who participate in online courses offered by this university from abroad.
