

May 2018

Announcement to Environmental Sciences 3rd year September-entry students:
guidance and laboratory review session for the Graduation Project

We will hold a guidance and laboratory review session for the Graduation Project, as described below. The Graduation Project is one of most important requirements in the ES senior division program. All ES-course 3rd year students are strongly encouraged to attend the session, where important information about the project, and potential laboratories and research topics will be explained in detail.

Guidance and Laboratory Review Session for the Graduation Project:

Date: June 1, 2018, Friday

Time: 18:30 to 20:30 pm

Room: KOMCEE 3rd floor K303

During the weeks following this session and before early July, professors offering projects welcome you to visit their laboratories. Please be advised that visiting a professor and his/her laboratory should be arranged well in advance by making an appointment. The contact information of each professor will be provided at the above session.

While this session is particularly targeted at 3rd year September-entry PEAK ES students, all PEAK 2nd and 3rd year students are also welcome to attend.

ES Program Director