

OSSMA : Overseas Student Safety Management Assistance

Students who travel overseas with the following programs may sign up for OSSMA if they wish:

・Students in the Senior Division or Graduate School who are participating in study abroad programs, classes, international activity programs, research and survey activities, conferences, internships, volunteer activities, and other overseas programs/activities.

※However, please follow instructions by the office of your participating program as some programs require to sign up for it.

<Notes>

- ・ The cost of OSSMA is determined by the length of each student's coverage. Details are shown on the website listed below. Payment must be made by students who apply for this service.
- ・ The OSSMA service is a support service which manages the safety of students traveling overseas, and is not an insurance program. The service requires advance payment of membership fees, but travel insurance must also be purchased separately.
