About Specialized Courses

PEAK second year students can take "Specialized Courses (Senmon-kamoku)" from this semester. These Specialized Courses are basically for the Senior Division's (Years 3 & 4) students; however, some of them are open to the second year students, and PEAK second year students should start taking them. The following is how to check and register the courses:

1. Make a study plan for 2S semester (the fourth semester), referring to "Directory of Classes 2017 College and Arts and Sciences, Senior Division," "S Semester 2017 Timetables," "Undergraduate Student Handbook II (Kōki-Binran)" and "Graduation Requirements for PEAK Senior Division," all of which are distributed at the S Semester Guidance on Apr 4.
2. Also check the syllabus on UT-mate. You can use the same ID and password as UTask-Web on UT-mate. For UT-mate, click the "UT-mate" banner on the left side of your usual Junior Division website or visit:
<https://ut-gakumu.adm.u-tokyo.ac.jp/websys-e/campus>
3. Register the courses on UTask-Web (NOT UT-mate) within the registration period above, referring to "Guideline for Course Registration of Specialized Courses" as attached. Upon registration, be sure to use the course codes for UTask-Web on "List of Specialized Courses" on the PEAK 2017 Syllabus and Timetables.

[Note]

- Credits for Specialized Courses are not counted towards completion requirements for the Junior Division.
- Make sure to check the language used in class on UT-mate. Many Specialized Courses are taught in languages other than English, but for the courses with the phrase "PEAK," the instructors will consider PEAK students' language skills.
