The transition to Stage Yellow and the plan to resume activities on campus

Dr. Fukuda, executive director and chair of the U-Tokyo coronavirus task force has announced the lowering of the university-wide status from level 1 to level 0.5, effective Monday, July 13. In light of this, the current stage of the Komaba campus will be changed from Stage Orange to Stage Yellow. While I announced the rules and regulations for campus activities on May 29, for Stage Yellow, I would like to announce once again how activities shall be carried out on the Komaba Campus during this stage.

All club and extracurricular activities on campus will be banned until the exam-period exams for the S Semester end. After that, we are considering about the possible resumption, in accordance with the policies and directives given from the UTokyo headquarters.

The timing for restriction alleviation after the continuation of Stage Yellow for a certain period of time is being discussed at the Dean's office and will be announced once decided.
