

Class Delivery Method for the A Semester (A1/A2 Term) AY2025

To PEAK Junior Division Students,

In the A Semester (A1/A2 Term) AY 2025, Junior Division courses will be offered in two different class formats, depending on the course.

- ① Courses that are designated for specific classes with a set number of students (クラス指定科目) and courses conducted in small groups

For the following courses, course instructors will choose whether to conduct classes in person or online/on-demand during the first week (October 2 to October 8). From the second week onwards, classes will be conducted in person in principle.

-Class-designated courses (クラス指定科目)

-Intermediate Courses (展開科目)

“Sports and Fitness Exercises” courses in Integrated Courses Group D

Please refer to the list of applicable courses at the bottom of this document.

- ② Courses not covered by ①

In principle, courses that not covered by ① will be conducted online/on-demand during the first week (October 2 to October 8). Please prepare the electronic devices for online classes on your own.

From the second week onwards, classes will be conducted in person.

However, some courses may be offered in person from the first week even if they are not covered by ①.

Please be sure to check UTAS and UTOL for details.

*Some courses may be conducted online/on-demand throughout the semester or term, so please check UTAS and UTOL frequently.

<Class Hours>

Classes are 90-minute-long in principle, but some courses will be 105 minutes long. There is a set procedure for making up the shortened 15 minutes in 90-minute classes. 15 minutes may be taken from the start or end of the class.

Please check the “class time” and “How to make up for the shortened class time in the case of 90-minute classes” section of each syllabus on UTAS.

The start or end time for classes are indicated on the academic calendar on the website as below.
