To: Students, Faculty, and Staff of the Komaba I Campus

Administration Division
College of Arts and Sciences

As announced by the Dean of the Graduate School and College of Arts and Sciences on June 26, our campus will remain in Stage Orange on Monday, June 29, and later. The “Restrictions and rules at the Komaba Campus during Stage Orange (after June 15)” announced on June 12 remain in effect except for the following changes:

1. The service counters of the Academic Affairs Division and Student Support Division on the first floor of the Administration Building will reopen. These two offices will be added to the online application form on the “The University of Tokyo Komaba I Campus Entry/Facilities Use Application Site”; please register on the site if you need to enter campus to visit either office.
2. The Komaba Student Counseling Center, Komaba Health Service Center, and Academic Guidance Center will resume partial services. For information about the Komaba Student Counseling Center, please check the Center’s website. For information about the Komaba Health Service Center or Academic Guidance Center, either check the particular center’s website or contact the center directly. These facilities will be added to the online application form on the “The University of Tokyo Komaba I Campus Entry/Facilities Use Application Site”; please register on the site if you need to enter campus to visit any of these facilities.

Restrictions and rules at the Komaba Campus during Stage Orange (after June 15)

The status of the Komaba Campus regarding COVID-19 infections has been lowered from "Red A" to "Orange" as of June 15th (Monday). The restrictions and rules regarding entering the Komaba campus will be enforced as follows:

1. All gates except for the main gate will remain closed. Only members of the Komaba I Campus are allowed to enter the campus, and they must do so through the main gate. The following procedures are in place to prevent the spread of infection.

(1) In principle, no one will be allowed to enter the premises without a mask on. However, please take appropriate countermeasures to prevent heatstroke.

(2) Before entering the Komaba I Campus, please file an application at the following "Application for Entry to the Komaba I Campus" website. Once your application is accepted, you will receive a confirmation email. You will be asked to show the confirmation email on your smartphone or other devices when you enter the campus. At the same time, please present your student or staff ID. If you forgot to take your body temperature or were unable to file an application online, you will be asked to take a temperature test and to fill out the form at the security guard's office.

(3) Those who had a body temperature of 37.5 degrees Celsius or higher on the morning of the day and those who had been outside Japan within the previous 14 days are not allowed to enter the campus.

2. Students in the Junior Division who wish to take online lectures on campus may do so at the Information Education Building or at 21 KOMCEE East. A reservation is required to take online lectures at those buildings. Please make a reservation at the "The University of Tokyo Komaba I Campus Entry/Facilities Use Application Site". You will also need to file an application for the general entry, as explained above.

3. Students, faculty, and staff at the Komaba I Campus may use the Komaba Library with a reservation. If you wish to use the library, please follow the above procedure 1) and 2) and make a reservation at the "The University of Tokyo Komaba I Campus Entry/Facilities Use Application Site". Please check the Komaba Library website for the opening hours. You will not be allowed to enter the library without a reservation.

4. Small-group seminars may be held on campus for students in the senior division and for graduate students. The seminars must be held in a designated seminar room. Both faculties and students are required to follow the procedure described in section (1) and (2).

5. Faculty members who wish to host online lectures from the campus may use the classrooms and facilities of 21Komcee West. Please follow the entry procedures described in section (1) and (2), and in addition, make a reservation at the "Online Classroom Reservation Site". For information on the equipment available and precautions, please refer to the website.
