A workload of 20MC would typically require a student to spend an average of 50 hours of study per week over 13 weeks of classes.  Non-graduating international students are required to read a minimum workload of 12 MCs (approximately 3 modules) or pursue full-time research during regular semester. They are responsible for ensuring that the modules registered would fulfil the graduation requirements at the home university. This minimum workload is also a requirement to qualify for a Student's Pass issued by the Immigration Checkpoints Authority (ICA). | 1月留学:October 1st, 2012                |
