

Precautions to prevent the spread of infection

While the state of emergency for Tokyo has been extended until May 31st, infection cases can be seen among the members of the Graduate school and the College of Arts and Sciences. Many of them were caused by group meetings and dining in the 'three Cs' (closed spaces, crowded and close-contact settings). Having notified you regarding extracurricular activities for students on Stage Orange in “The College/Graduate School of Arts and Sciences Restrictions Index for Preventing the Spread of COVID-19 “ posted on the website (Please see the linked URL for details) late April, we would also like to ask all the members of the Komaba I Campus once again to take precautions. As ever, please perform hand disinfection, wear masks, keep a safe space between yourself and others and refrain from group meetings and dining in the 'three Cs'.
